MARIJUANA CASE

DC Police Foil Narcotics Trio

Climaxing more than two hectic months of delicate work, Daly City police inspectors and two state agents rounded up three young San Francisco adults here Thursday afternoon to crack a small but lethal narcotics ring.

Arrested simultaneously were Edward R. Gallegos, 19; Leroy Louis, 28, and James C. Mackie, 23. Each of the trio was charged with possession, sale and transportation of narcotics — marijuana in this case.

Daly City inspectors Captain Roy Beecher, Sgt. Bruno Conci and Officer George Brooks broke the trio's operations via evidence taken by a Daly City police officer who performed undercover duties.

Thursday's roundup of the trio, which was accomplished within a half-hour, failed to produce any narcotics on their persons or where they reside. But additional evidence was unnecessary, said Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi.

"We have enough on them to make the charges stick."

WSIA ANSWERS 'CHALLENGES' IN OPEN MEET

Directors of Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association met in special open meeting last week to answer questions challenging the association, posed by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Doerr, homeowners at 2 Belmont drive.

The Doerrs, however, failed to attend the "conciliatory" meeting, citing in a letter to the WSIA that they did not want to meet the directors in an open meeting before a large audience.

The WSIA nevertheless went ahead with the original business, announcing each question submitted by the Doerrs and providing the answers.

Briefly, the directors declared that the association did not have a "do-nothing attitude," as charged by the Doerrs, but that the WSIA, by its by-laws, was organized and is dedicated to protect and further the interests of Westlake residents.

The directors said that subdivisions "had not been dropped from the title Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association, that according to the by-laws and the recent Superior Court verdict that membership in the association is not compulsory but that assessments are, that only residents of R-1 (homes) dwellings are part of the association, and that the association has nothing to do with the maintenance of the R-3 (apartment) residences.

More than 50 homeowners attended last week's special meeting called for the benefit of the Doerrs, according to Alyce Shea, WSIA secretary-manager.

In another matter, the association heeded the reports of Pierce Rusling, 781 Skyline drive, and John Dunn, 397 Westmoor avenue, and asked for a homeowners' committee to make a preliminary survey of the entire Westlake area to determine violations of restrictions.

Emory Schoolcraft, chairman of the board, appointed Rusling, Dunn and Mel Sparks, 1104 Southgate, to this committee.

Volume of their marijuana sales and extent of their individual usage wasn't too heavy, according to Daly City police, but their operations could have expanded. Several long-in-trouble minors from this area, many of whom may have purchased marijuana from the trio, have been and will continue to be under close surveillance here.

The biggest roadblock facing authorities is the fact that state laws aren't tough enough to allow police full jurisdiction in raiding suspected narcotics operations. But once they have enough "legal" evidence, prosecution is almost a certainty.

All three suspects were mugged when arrested by Judge Charles Becker in municipal court. The felony counts will send each to prison.

None of the trio has a clean record. Louis, father of four, employed until last week at a Mission street auto agency as a lot man, served time earlier for robbery, according to police. Louis resides at 400 Plymouth street, San Francisco.

Gallegos, youngest of the trio, is separated from his wife. They have a child. Two years ago Gallegos, whose present address is 539 Taraval street, San Francisco, was arrested in southern California for transporting marijuana across the border.

Cop Fires Six Shots To Halt Stolen Vehicle

Six shots and speedometer readings of 115 miles-an-hour were used by Officer Jeff Wetmore to stop two 16-year-olds in a stolen car here Monday at 1:30 a.m.

The boy, a service station attendant and parolee of the California Youth Authority, and the girl, a high school junior, were finally taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Home.

Wetmore spotted the car, a red and white station wagon, parked in the carport at the rear of the 100 block of Park Plaza. He was going to ask the couple what they were doing there at such an early hour. The pair sped off on South Mayfair.

The officer started his red light flashing, but this only made the boy speed faster as he reached Alemany and Junipero Serra. Wetmore had radioed ahead and Officer Ralph Warren had parked his car in the southbound lanes to stop the stolen vehicle.

Officer Robert Crocker pulled across the lane blocking the oncoming car's path at Westlake street and Junipero Serra boulevard but the youth swerved around him and the high speed chase got into high gear.

Wetmore said the station wagon moved even more rapidly to 80 miles an hour and only NONCOMMITTAL upon questioning a few minutes after he and two other San Franciscans were arrested by Daly City police on narcotics charges here last Thursday, Leroy Lewis (center) faces a return to prison. The 28-year-old suspect was picked up on his job as a Mission street car lot handyman here. Sgt. Bruno Conci (left) and Officer George Brooks (right) spearheaded the Daly City investigation which led to the trio's apprehension.

Jefferson Elementary Board's Organization Meet Next Wednesday

Jefferson Elementary School board will hold its required annual organization meeting next Wednesday night, July 1, at 48 Park Plaza drive, second floor.

The session will mark the official debut of new District Superintendent Richard L. Foster.

The agenda includes the election of a new board chairman and clerk, a trustee representative for county committees, and the awarding of three bids — on the three classroom additions to Olympia School, a music room for Benjamin Franklin School, and a contract for refinishing desk tops.

The school board meets twice a month, on the first and third Monday evenings in regular sessions. The public is encouraged to attend. Starting time is 8 p.m.

BOOKED along with Leroy Louis (top photo) on narcotics charges here last week were Edward R. Gallegos (left), 19, and James C. Mackie (right), 23, both married and in trouble before. All three live in San Francisco and were employed in Daly City.

Chestmobile To Offer Free X-Rays

Daly City baby sitters — including mothers and fathers of small children — were urged today to get a free chest X-ray when the Christmas Seal Chestmobile comes to town next week.

The mobile unit will be parked at the Spotlite Market, Mission and Hillside, from noon to 7 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday, June 29 and 30.

William Montgomery, case finding director for the San Mateo County TB Association declared: "Tuberculosis is a contagious disease. It's possible to have active TB and not know it. That's why parents should insist that their baby sitter get regular, complete physical examinations, including a chest X-ray or tuberculin test."

City councilmen, ready to roll up their sleeves and tackle the new fiscal budget requests, Monday night took care of one major item well in advance as they granted 5 per cent across the board salary hikes to all city employees effective July 1.

City Manager George Watts recommended the 5 per cent boosts, citing that the figure was about average for municipalities in this area. A survey

COUNCIL WANTS DC 'VOICE' ON HOSPITAL PLAN

Slightly forgotten by fellow north county leaders, Daly City councilmen decided Monday night they should be included on the recently formed committee which is seeking to establish a North County Hospital District.

Councilman Francis Pacelli cited the oversight by the other-city officials, stating that Daly City hadn't been contacted officially by the steering committee which is launching the hospital district study.

Councilmen Bob St. Clair and Joseph Verducci, also more than a little perturbed, agreed to Mayor Edward Dennis' idea that the entire Daly City council should check out the hospital idea and be represented on the steering unit through City Manager George Watts.

Leo Ryan, South San Francisco councilman, is chairman of the steering committee, which includes Mayor Jean Fassler of Pacifica, Anita Robertson, member of the South SF planning commission; Daly City's Bob Hunter, city auditor; and Thomas Noonan, Jefferson Elementary District school trustee.

Councilman Michael DeBernardi was absent from Monday's meeting. He has followed the progress of the steering committee from the start, he said later this week.

The steering group intends to form an expanded fact-finding committee to show the need for a hospital district to serve residents of Daly City, Pacifica, South San Francisco, Colma, Bayshore City, Brisbane and the adjacent unincorporated areas.

On paper, the district would serve an estimated population of 110,000 and would have an assessed valuation of more than $145 million.

Council To Meet Friday Night On New Fiscal Budget

City councilmen will take their second look at Daly City's proposed $1,623,682 new fiscal budget this Friday night in a special study session starting at 8 o'clock.

Figured in the record outlay, which would necessitate a tax hike of about eight cents to around $1 per $100 assessed valuation, is a council-approved 5 per cent across-the-board wage hike for all city employees and the city manager's request for 20 new personnel.

he made of other Peninsula city salary requests, he said, showed that most are contemplating salary hikes of from 3 to 7½ per cent for their municipal workers.

Not involved in the 5 percent hikes here are the city treasurer ($400 a month) and city clerk ($550 a month) and the part-time appointed positions of city attorney and city auditor. The former pair's salaries are set by ordinance.

The council must pass on wage increases recommended by Watts for Bob Hunter, city auditor, and Paul Hupf, city attorney. Decisions on this will come up shortly in the budget study talks.

Watts' salary under the council authorization Monday will climb from $12,646 a year to $13,372. Public Works Director Otis Calhoun goes from $12,048 to $12,646.

Under the new salary schedule, firemen and police officers will climb to a minimum-maximum monthly range of $449 to $520, fire captains and police sergeants to $495-$573, fire battalion chiefs to $546-$629, police lieutenants to $520-$602, fire chief to $658-$753, police captain to $573-$658, assistant police chief to $688-$758, and police chief to a range of $723 to $833.

Thomas Redmond Named Jeff High Vice Principal

Forty-year-old Thomas A. Redmond, English and social studies teacher, was appointed new vice principal of Jefferson High Monday night by district trustees.

Redmond, a veteran of nine years on the Jefferson faculty, is a graduate of San Francisco State College where he received his liberal arts degree and teaching credentials.

He and his wife, parents of two youngsters, reside at 318 Arguello boulevard in San Francisco.

Redmond succeeds Louis J. Martin, recently elevated to the district's administrative staff.

In another assignment Monday, trustees named Miss Elizabeth Hall, English department instructor, to Jefferson's counseling staff. She has been at Jefferson the past 12 years.

BOSBERRY AND BRAKEBILL

Two Personnel Board Commissioners Quit

More appointive-post vacancies faced city councilmen Monday night after they received surprise letters of resignation from chairman Harry Bosberry and commissioner Harry Brakebill of the city personnel board.

Bosberry, on the board the past six years, recently was re-named to another term by 3-2 vote. Although this lack of majority council support may have been a factor, the 54-year-old PG&E executive said he didn't think he could do a complete job as commissioner due to his outside interests and family obligations. Bosberry resides at 126 Westlawn avenue in Westlake.

Brakebill, 44, of 65 Terrace avenue, said his family's recent move to San Francisco disqualifies him from DC commission membership. A business manager at San Francisco State College, Harry had served on the commission the past two years.

Councilmen accepted both resignations with regret and ordered letters of commendation to both men.

Mayor Edward Dennis said replacements will be discussed by the council at its July 9 study session. Also to be filled is a resignation vacancy on the library commission and two on the planning commission (this August), those of planning commissioners Dick Dwyer, the chairman, and Art Colvin.

TOUGH one for the judges to decide, but streamlined and stylish Pat Strasser (center) walked off with the big trophy and the "Miss Daly City" title Thursday night, edging an oh-so-attractive field of four other finalists at Westlake Joe's. The

DOUBLE LAST YEAR

Jeff High District's Summer School Attracts 753 Students

Summer session enrollment in Jefferson High School District has jumped from 300 students last year to 753 students now attending.

The two sessions at Jefferson High both started on June 15 for six-week periods.

Superintendent Ed Morgan gives credit to summer session director John Ivan for more than doubling the rolls. "He is a good organizer and offered wider selections than have been given in the past," Morgan declared.

"Usually summer school is for Jefferson and Westmoor students with remedial problems," but Ivan offers classes for those who don't have to make up deficiencies, such subjects as arts and crafts," Morgan explained.

Ivan on Monday night explained a new allocation in the tentative budget which calls for $5,300 for research, improvement of instruction and teacher's conferences.

Ivan is experimenting with four-hour labs in chemistry and has also added speed reading to the summer school curriculum. He noted that in some classes 65 students are not too many for one instructor, while in others a teacher could be swamped by 12 students.

Morgan told the board, "It's not sacred to have classes of a certain number of students. In the future we may even try to split schedules in order that a student does not get the same subject each day. For instance, mathematics could be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays with English offered on Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays."

Robert Hyde, Westmoor social studies teacher, will serve as principal beginning July 1 when Ivan assumes duties as the district's full-time director of curriculum.

Battling Carpenter Asks Jury Trial

Ralph G. Stein, 35, a carpenter of 245 Los Olivos avenue, will have a jury trial on July 29 as a result of his "not guilty" plea last week in municipal court on three Daly City charges.

Stein fought three Daly City policemen when they attempted to book him on a drunk charge. He subsequently was cited for assault and battery in addition to the drunk charge.

three years.

"We knew a deficit in the budget was coming and that is why we built our reserve fund over that period," he pointed out.

The district's beginning cash balance this July 1 will be $941,772, an increase of cash on hand of $39,648 over a year ago when it was $902,124.

Proposed expenditures in the new budget are figured at $1,860,393, an increase of $273,378. Morgan said that the increase is all reflected in salaries. Not only does the 5 per cent increase in salaries add to last year's total but the additional teachers to take care of increased enrollment add even more, he explained.

The 1958-1959 school year showed salaries of $897,710 while the 1959-1960 total will be $1,125,568. Twenty-two new teachers to be added for the new year bring the increase up to $227,858, Morgan declared.

"Actually, if the salary increases were slashed from the budget, it would be a more austere budget than last year."

COAST HIGH SCHOOL PLANS ON SCHEDULE

"On schedule" was the word Monday night as high school trustees heard progress reports on plans for the two new district high schools which will open in Pacifica in September of 1961.

Supt. Edward Morgan said architect Mario Ciampi has completed preliminary plans on the Oceana High (Sharp Park) plant and should have state approval by next week. The district will go before the State Allocations Board at its August meeting with a request for funds to build Oceana.

Meanwhile, architects Falk and Booth are finishing final drawings on the Terra Nova plant in Linda Mar. The district will be eligible to make application on this project later this fall.

Grading on both Pacifica sites will begin this fall. Construction is to begin next May. Both plants will have an opening enrollment of 900 students.

District enrollment projections for the 1960-61 school year preview a return to double sessions while the two Coastside schools are being built.

'Silver Anniversary' Contestants Should Secure Applications

Application blanks for Daly City couples who wish to be considered in the Chamber of Commerce's "Silver Anniversary Couple" selection are now available at the Chamber of Commerce, 6454 Mission street, and at Marchbanks Publications, 3317 San Jose avenue.

The DC Chamber will carefully check out each entry, then select one married pair to be honored here and at the San Mateo County Fair.

Couple who have their 25th wedding anniversaries during the month of July this year have the inside track, according to Fred Martin, DC Chamber chairman for the program. The choice will be based on the activities and contributions of the couple to their community.

21-Year-Old Fashion Model Captures 'Miss Daly City' Title

By Lou Lucia

Pat Strasser, the new Miss Daly City, looked out from marble-sized eyes, more colorful than any brown agate, and low toned, "I just never dreamed this could happen. Being crowned queen was certainly a big surprise and I'm sort of catching up with everything now."

Miss Strasser will represent Daly City at the County Fair's Fiesta Dream Girl contest in San Mateo next month. She already has walked off with second place in the San Mateo pageant and hopes to climb one rung higher this time.

She won first place in the talent part of the judging stepping off a fast Cha-Cha-Cha. However, she claims that she would much rather listen to waltzes and slower music. "Isn't that amazing," she said, her whole countenance beaming.

"Most people think that I'd probably like modern or popular ballads," she reflected.

Her "loves" include water skiing, dancing, outdoor sports and the Beaver show on television, but she did not mention any males, only that, "I'm not going steady with anyone, not engaged..."

"I get a big 'bang' out of TV westerns," she added to her list of likes.

Patricia Ann Strasser goes to the beach on her mornings off but this is no secret to anyone who has seen this 5-foot, six-inch, 121-pound tanned beauty. "Eating is one of my hobbies, but it's just wonderful, I don't have to watch my weight," she enthusiastically noted.

The only complaint that could be discerned was that "there's something wrong with my Thunderbird—it shakes."

Born in San Francisco, Miss Strasser has lived in this area all her life, though she has been living in Broadmoor with her parents and two brothers, Michael, 8, and David, 1½, only for the past year and five months.

She first worked for Safeway Stores doing secretarial work after her graduation from Balboa High in 1955. Now she is a model for the House of Charm and has held this position for two years. Pat claims she would probably return to secretarial work if she ever quits modeling.

"I model the All-American Girl type of dress rather than doing any high fashion modeling," she said, then continued, "but that may come in due time."

Her father, a meat cutter by trade, is of German descent while her mother is of English and Spanish descent.

The dark-haired beauty will not have to do the Cha Cha Cha as there is no talent involved in the Fiesta Dream Girl Contest, but she brings ample charms to the contest which will be judged 10 per cent on poise, 10 per cent on figure and 80 per cent on beauty.

She'll be competing against 15 other beauties, one less than she edged out here last Thursday for the Daly City crown.

Runners-up to Miss Strasser here were Judy Soto, Lala Paton, Lana Green and Mary Goode.

der from Tiajuana. He served three months in county jail awaiting trial. His involvement in the ring here violated his federal probation.

Gallegos worked in Westlake as an apprentice drapery layer. His employer, who cooperated with police throughout the case, disclosed that Gallegos was a good worker. Why he took to narcotics is a puzzle.

Mackie, also married, went to prison four years ago after Daly City police arrested him for burglary here. He was working in Westlake this time as a maintenance man. He lives at 91 Northridge road in San Francisco.

The trio have been remanded to sheriff's custody in lieu of $5000 cash or $10,000 bail. They are due in superior court within the next two weeks on the felony counts.

student newspaper and teaches English classes.

The district hired two more new teachers Monday night, granting contracts to Caroline R. Silva and John A. Brignola. Miss Silva will serve as girls' physical education instructor at Jeff. Brignola joins the Westmoor math department staff.

The district, needing a total of 159 classroom teachers by September, has hired 32 new teachers thus far and needs only two more new instructors to meet its '59-60 school year needs.

Supt. Edward Morgan noted Monday night that a trustee screening committee, made up of board chairman Elio Fontana and James M. Cooper and five citizens, will nominate a replacement for Raymond T. Whitney, who is resigning as trustee effective this July 22.

County Supt. of Schools James Tormey will chairmen this group and consider its recommendations in making the appointment.

Eagle Ladies' Hawaii Theme Fetes Leader

Hawaiian costumes were in vogue for the Daly City Eagles Auxiliary on June 9 to celebrate the birthday of new president Marie Claussen, who was born in Hawaii. Members also paid tribute to outgoing president Lynn Boskey.

Edrie Summers decorated the hall. The new president's sister, Helen Seivers, presented a flower lei in honor of the celebration. Gifts were also presented by the women's auxiliary.

Mrs. Claussen and secretary Alberta Diebel attended the Eagles state convention in Sacramento and reported to the Daly City Auxiliary of the outcome of the June 23 session.

DC Man 'Answers' Police Car Siren, Weaves, Arrested

James Melton Alvey, 45, 401 Westlake avenue, Saturday night answered a police car's siren by blowing his auto horn in return. He was arrested moments later for drunk driving.

Alvey was spotted slumped over the wheel of his car in the 6800 block of Mission street by Officer Phil LaBruzzi. By the time the officer had circled the block Alvey took off and his car weaved in and out of lanes for a few blocks.

LaBruzzi caught up with Alvey when the latter's car jumped the curb at Westlake avenue. Alvey was released on a $500 bond the next morning. He's due in municipal court this week.

DC Grocery Clerk Fined For Forgery

Mervin R. Sampson, 24, former grocery clerk at Mayfair Market 2350 Junipero Serra boulevard, was fined $100 and placed on a year's probation last week when he appeared in municipal court on a charge of forging a check for $100 at the local supermarket.

Sampson, a San Francisco resident said he was broke and needed the money. He had never been in trouble before.

Gasoline Consumption

Vermont used 126,250,000 gallons of gasoline during 1958, less than any other state in the Union, according to the National Automobile Club.

San Benito and Monterey counties lead all other counties in the state in the production of garlic.

COUNCIL APPROVES 'MORATORIUM' ON MISSION METERS

The city council Monday night instructed City Manager George Watts to proceed with plans for a four-day "moratorium" on Mission street parking meters, July 15-18, in conjunction with a special sales promotion project by these merchants.

Watts also recommended to the council that the one-hour parking time limit on Mission be waived during the four-day promotion. The free parking is expected to stimulate sales.

City Councilman Bob St. Clair lauded the project and said it showed that the city was anxious to work with the merchants and in turn gain more cooperation from them.

Marchbanks Publications newspapers initiated the four-day promotion and will feature the bargains and offerings of the merchants.

Betty Kohlbrener recently entertained the "Friendly Twelve" as their new officers were installed.

Edna Mullen takes over the gavel as president for the new year, while outgoing president Emma D'Isep was given a handbook and a history book of her year in office. Julia Byrne promises a year of fun and fellowship as new program chairman.

Activities for the club in May of this year included a luncheon at Joe's of Westlake with a visit to the Flower Show on the mall. Also, the club was the guest of Julia Jordan in Fairfield for its May monthly meeting.

SOME CREDIT FOR OUR POLICE

Proficiency of the Daly City police department again was demonstrated last week when the men of Chief Roland Petrocchi wrapped up a painstaking probe that resulted in the arrest of three narcotics suspects.

Narcotics arrests and investigations are the toughest tests for any law enforcement agency. Their success depends on the skill and heavy leg-work of men who sometimes have to start at scratch, with few leads, and piece things together to make a solid case that will stand in court.

As in the recent August Norry murder case, Daly City police—on their own—took the lead and were more than "instrumental" in detecting and seizing the offenders. And unlike some departments elsewhere, the projects were not used by the Daly City agency for headline-seeking and personal glory.

Veteran Daly City Police Capt. Roy Beecher and Sgt. Bruno Conci, assisted by Officer George Brooks and the DC undercover agent, deserve some often lacking public appreciation for last week's teamwork.

The consistent high-caliber performance of these men reflect deserving credit on the local police department and its ability to serve its community with maximum results.

KIP Workshop News

Richard Fenn of Daly City was elected Kip President at the annual elections this month. Dennis Stahlman was elected vice president and Cathy Cubic, also of Daly City, was elected as secretary for the coming year.

Kipsters entertained at Lettermen Recreation Hall last week in a show headed by sensational Spanish dancers Martita Santiago, and the Spinners, singing combo, Laura Luster and Cathy Cubic of Daly City, Helen Zenick, Eileen and Mary Bunch of South San Francisco, Rich Fenn of Daly City, Arlene Johnson, and a trio of Hawaiian dancers under the direction of Mrs. Jerry Matlock completed the cast of Kipsters.

The monthly adult meeting held at Mrs. Martha Garbe's in South San Francisco resulted in exciting plans for Kip for the summer season. Number one task at the moment is the preparation of floats and entertainment for the annual Fourth of July Festival sponsored by the Winston Manor Home Owners Association. Kip Kids have been asked to parade and to provide entertainment and music at the gala affair. Francis Drosch and Neal Nash have assumed charge of the floats and parade details, and Kip teenagers will prepare decorations for the event.

I.C.C.—Kip Unit will have an all-cities audition on June 27 at 1 p.m. at I.C.C. school hall, 3235 Folsom street, San Francisco. Adult meeting for the new unit has been scheduled for Tuesday, June 30, at 8 p.m.

Governor Brown Calls Legislature Most Productive State Has Had

Governor Edmund G. Brown has hailed the 1959 State Legislature as "the finest and most productive legislature in the history of California."

He made the statement as the legislature adjourned its 1959 session having given overwhelming approval to nearly 90 per cent of the program he proposed when inaugurated January 5.

"I have no intention of going through the whole host of legislation which we have produced together," Governor Brown told separate final sessions of the Assembly and Senate last Friday night.

"But I do want to single out the water program and FEPC," he said.

"One is a great symbol of material progress—an achievement that demonstrates what reasonable men from every part of California can do when they agree to agree as citizens of one great state," he added.

"The other is a great symbol of human progress—an achievement of enlightenment and understanding," the governor said.

The legislature in its final week approved a budget changed only slightly from the one submitted by Governor Brown in January and called by leaders of both parties the tightest seen in Sacramento in recent years.

The budget appropriated more than $2,224,000,000 for the 1959-60 fiscal year and was called by the governor a "triumph of true economy."

Brown said he wanted to review the budget very carefully before deciding to blue-pencil any items in it. He pointed out that it was only slightly higher than the budget he proposed.

Chief among the additions to the budget were items requested by the governor himself to make a start on the giant state-wide water program. More than $83 million was allocated for that purpose.

Governor Brown said the legislature had approved 25 of the 30 major measures he originally proposed in his inaugural message.

Most important were the passage of a $1.75 billion bond issue for the state-wide water development program, which will be placed on the November, 1960, ballot for a vote of the people.

Besides the $83 million in appropriations for the 1959-60 fiscal year, the legislature also approved Governor Brown's plan to dedicate $172 million in tideland oil royalties, plus future accruals to the fund, to develop the water program.

Brown said voter approval of the bond issue will assure "the greatest of all possible futures for California."

In the field of social-economic legislation, the legislature approved an historic Fair Employment Practices Act to outlaw discrimination in job opportunities.

It also approved the governor's proposal for a consumer council to help protect the consumer against high prices and rising utility rates, a curb on racketeering in installment sales, an Economic Development Agency to help bring new industries and new jobs to California and a program of medical aid for the needy disabled.

In what Brown described as a "return to fiscal responsibility in California," the legislature also approved a broad-based new revenue program which is expected to put the 1959-60 budget in "uneasy balance."

Cutting across virtually every segment of the economy, the revenue program was characterized by the governor as "fair and equitable to all."

New State Bill Would Tighten Meat Standards

An Assembly-approved bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County was passed today by the Senate and sent to the Governor to "tighten up" on sanitary regulations governing butcher shops, slaughter houses, and other fresh meat distribution places.

The Francis measure prohibits its butcher shops and slaughter houses to possess, store, or use sulfur dioxide for any purpose in places where meat is sold. Violation of this health measure would be punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or not more than six months in jail, or both.

Francis said that sulfur dioxide is often used to color stale or spoiled meats and "presents a serious health problem because it is poisonous and toxic."

processors claim they sometimes use this chemical as a detergent to keep their establishments clean, but there is absolutely no reason, according to Francis, why any butcher or meat processor should have this chemical on his premises because there are many modern soaps and detergents available for cleaning.

"This measure, if signed by the governor, will greatly simplify law enforcement. The present laws are inadequate to cope with this situation because often in cases involving adulteration there is a problem of proving who placed the adulterant in the meat. Consequently, it is extremely difficult to convict the adulterator, which leaves the public without adequate protection," Francis explained.

Bill Loughner Gets North End Insurance Post

"William G. Loughner has been appointed representative for Hardware Mutuals insurance organization in the northern section of San Mateo County."

Loughner's appointment is in keeping with Hardware Mutuals practice of bringing insurance service as close as possible to their policyholders. Similar expansion of their service has been taking place in areas like San Mateo County from coast to coast.

After intensive training in Hardware Mutuals San Francisco office, Loughner served as an insurance specialist in San Francisco for several years.

Married and the father of four children, Bill is a native of Jeannette, Pennsylvania. He received his formal education at City College of San Francisco.

Civil Defense Course Movies

The final class of a basic civil defense course emphasizing the essential aspects of disaster preparedness will be held Monday, June 29, at San Francisco Disaster Corps headquarters, 45 Hyde street, at 8 p.m.

Instruction will be centered on psychological defense and will deal with the nature of fear, fear reactions in disaster and panic control procedures.

Two movies, "To Live Tomorrow" and "London Can Take It" will be shown. The general public is invited.

New Law Will Require Judges To Wear Robes

The controversial, Assembly-approved bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County won successful passage today in the State Senate by a 23 to 13 vote to require every judge of a court of record in California to wear a judicial robe in open court during the presentation of cases before him. The measure requires the judges to purchase their own robes which are to be designed by the Judicial Council.

Originally, the Francis bill was defeated by the Assembly by a vote of 16 to 53. However, he later obtained 42 votes which was the necessary majority to send the bill to the Senate.

Francis said that judicial robes lend dignity to courtroom proceedings, are comfortable, and that the people expect their judges to wear them. He pointed out that robes are worn now in some major states, including Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Mexico, Louisiana, Delaware, South Carolina, and Washington.

He said that many judges to whom he has talked are in favor of the practice of wearing judicial robes, but some of them are reluctant to be the first ones in their county to wear robes.

He conceded that a robe does not contribute to the administration of justice.

FRESNO BECOMES STATE'S 51st COUNTY TO ADOPT SALES TAX

Fresno County has adopted a local sales and use tax ordinance and has contracted for state administration effective July 1. It was announced today by George R. Reilly, First District Member of the State Board of Equalization.

Fresno becomes the 51st county to adopt state-administered sales and use taxes authorized under the Bradley-Burns Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Law. The seven counties that have not yet passed countywide sales tax ordinances are Santa Barbara in Southern California, San Mateo in the San Francisco Bay Area, and the give mountain counties of Alpine, Amador, Plumas, Siskiyou, and Tehama. The last-named county and its three cities will contract for state administration effective October 1 this year.

The ordinances of the cities in Fresno County contain a unique schedule of city sales tax rates. Hereofore, with the single exception of Sonoma in Tuolumne County, each city ordinance has contained only one rate. The Sonoma ordinance, however, provides for a change in its original rate after a period of ten years. In Fresno County, the city of Fresno has adopted a rate of .92 percent for the first 18 months, a rate of .90 percent for the next 12 months, and a rate of .88 percent thereafter, and each of the other 14 cities in the county has adopted a rate of .95 percent for the first 18 months, .93 percent for the next 12 months, and .91 percent thereafter.

The use of a sliding rate schedule may help some of the counties and cities that have not yet found a system of mutually satisfactory rates to resolve their difference and lead to the joining the other 51 counties already under the Bradley-Burns program.

Twelve cities in Fresno County have already contracted with the board for its administration of their respective city ordinances. The other three cities in the county are, expected to do so shortly. Artesia, a newly incorporated city in Los Angeles County, and Del Mar, a new city in San Diego County, are also expected to sign up in time for their programs to go into effect on July 1. These additional cities will bring the number for which the state will be collecting sales and use taxes to 318. It also drops the number of cities administering their own sales taxes to eight.

Mrs. Ecker Is Crusade Drive Chairman Here

Mrs. Charles Ecker of Colma has been appointed United Crusade residential chairman for the Daly City-Colma area. The announcement of this appointment was made by Mrs. Robert Whitehead, residential chairman for the northern portion of the county.

Mrs. Whitehead said, "It will be Mrs. Ecker's responsibility to organize the solicitation of the residences in the Daly City-Colma area during the fall drive for funds of the United Crusade."

MRS. ECKER

The residential division plays a dual role in the United Crusade campaign—solicitation and educational. Mrs. Whitehead pointed out that federated giving will be completely successful only when the people of the community have a better understanding of it.

Mrs. Ecker's contribution to activities outside of the home includes work with the YWCA, early Risers Bowling League, Skyline Rainbow Girl Parents Club. In addition, she is a troop leader with the Girl Scouts, serving as their district chairman for Daly City-Colma in 1956 and 1957.

Moving to San Mateo County from Fresno some nine years ago, the Charles Eckers make their home at 605 Larchmont drive. They are the parents of two children.

The Town Record

By ROY HURLBERT

Many feel the job of city attorney in towns of this size is just a "prestige" assignment.

Actually, this part-time position (the guy still conducts his own law practice) has more than its share of headaches and late-hour labor.

DC Attorney Paul Hupf's tact and precision in carefully advising the council and protecting the taxpayers here has been an asset to the municipality and its citizens.

The conservative and deliberate gent does the job with maximum skill and dedication.

Council attendance is getting much better and may this upswing continue. Not too long ago councilmen and city officials always outnumbered the audience at city hall.

Daly city is much too large for apathetic public attitudes. The "bedroom community" tag is fast disappearing.

Pat Strasser, the Broadmoor dandy who triumphed over a field of 15 for the "Miss Daly City" crown, could win the Fiesta Dream Girl contest at the San Mateo County Fair.

The 21-year-old Balboa High graduate has more than a tape-busting prerequisites.

She's one of the most attractive young ladies we've seen in such competition.

A rare beauty, indeed.

Few folks were aware that two of the finalists in the Miss Daly City contest are sisters-in-law. Lala Patron's sister is married to the brother of Lana Green.

Hazel Colwell, veteran Jeff Elementary teacher (she objected to our use of "pioneer"), left Sunday for a six-weeks cruise to the South Pacific. The school marm will visit Samoa, Pago Pago, Tahiti, New Zealand, and Australia.

Teaching is a grind but it has its advantages. Salary continues during the summer months while the certificated folks rest on their oars for the coming onslaught.

Councilman Mickey DeBernardi may have an announcement in about two weeks on the rumor that he'll be a candidate for county supervisor.

The 33-year-old service station owner has plenty of north county support. If he figures he can win, he'll go all out in 1960.

DC councilmen are a bit perturbed about their lack of notification from other north end officials who have set up a committee to push for a north county hospital district.

South SF and Pacific brass conspicuously have failed to invite Daly City officials in on the project.

Bob Hunter, city auditor, and Tom Noonan, Jeff Elementary trustee, are on the committee, but not one DC councilman or the city manager were sounded out.

Chief Roland Petrocchi had us along last week when his police inspectors surprised three members of a narcotics ring here.

Just too bad certain loopholes in state law deny police officers full authority to foil narcotics suspects before the latter get other unwise folks involved.

Marijuana is just a starter. From this the users graduate to the heroin and cocaine.

It's never worth the ride. But it's profitable for the suppliers—the worst felons of all.

New Law Aiding Charter Cities

Governor Edmund G. Brown has signed into law legislation by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County to conform the statute of limitations of assessments against real property for public improvements of chartered cities with the present statute of limitations for general law cities.

The Francis measure provides the procedure for a contest of the validity of an assessment against real property for public improvement and an appeal from the final judgment in the action. The bill will affect the cities of San Mateo and Redwood City locally, and all other charter cities.

Francis explained, "It is currently undesirable that a charter city should be in a weaker position than a general law city with the limitation of actions against real property for public improvements. The proposed legislation establishes the limitation period for a challenge of assessments with the same period exactly provided by general law for general law cities, except where a longer period is provided by the city council involved."

Colma's Camp Matrup Is Ideal Site For Girl Scout Activities

By Servart Oljakian

Driving down shady Hoffman street in Colma, a long row of ancient and dust-covered giant cypress trees line its south side.

At the end of this street is the North San Mateo County Girl Scouts' Camp Matrup.

Matrup was named for Matrup Jensen, former head of Olivet cemetery. She obtained use of this beautifully wooded area for the Girl Scouts. Mr. Jensen has since passed away. His wife, Stella Jensen, lives in Colma and is a member of the Jefferson High School PTA.

Girl Scouts—125 strong—from the whole of North San Mateo County, really roughed it for five days among the giant eucalyptus grove of Matrup, and they loved every moment of it.

This is the third year for Advanced Day Camping for Girl Scouts who have completed the sixth grade and beyond.

Mrs. Helene Mori, camp director, says that there were 11 girls in the first such camp, and 50, the second year. Many girls were turned away from this year's camp as the demand was so great.

The eight Senior Scouts who will attend the national camp at Colorado, July 3-10, had a fine opportunity to practice up on their camp skills. On June 29, the eight Scouts will leave by train from Oakland for their Colorado destination.

One of the highlights of the camp session was talks to each of the six units on conservation by Duane Mattison, superintendent of Parks and Recreation of South San Francisco. He pointed out the value of groves of trees and explained how trees kept the air clean by catching dust particles on their leaves.

Each evening girls from one of the six units put on a program when the group was gathered around the campfire. There were songs, stories, and skits and a merry time was had by all.

Two overnights were held, and Mrs. Mori said, "One night we slept in moonlight and during the next sleep-out it drizzled like rain but nobody cared."

That's Girl Scouts for you. Always prepared, always ready to cope with the impossible.

A feast was held on Friday, the last day of this session. It was in the form of a cafeteria style smorgasbord spread out on rustic tables under the trees.

The Girl Scouts enjoyed this very much. Camp broke up at 3 p.m. and the tired but happy girls went home with many pleasant recollections.

'Miss Show Business' In 11 Performances At SF Opera House

Judy Garland, known as "Miss Show Business," comes to the San Francisco War Memorial Opera House for 11 night performances (including Sunday) beginning July 1 and ending July 11.

Her company, numbering almost 100, is headed by Alan King, a clever young comic; Johnny Bubbles, feather-footed tap dancer, and Gordon Jenkins and his orchestra. There are dancing boys and girls and the costumes are said to be very colorful. A choral group is also part of this big organization. It is the same show that played to capacity audiences at the Metropolitan and the Chicago Opera Houses. New York and Chicago reviewers claim that Miss Garland was never better. Her repertoire includes old and new favorites. She is on stage about two hours, working with her company and in solo.

Tickets are on sale at Sherman Clay Box Office, San Francisco, daily except Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and at the Opera House from 7 before the evening performance.

32 Groups To Staff Booths At RC Rodeo

Three more organizations have joined the other 29 which will operate concessions at the 20th annual Redwood City rodeo and Fourth of July celebration July 3-5, Chairman Anthony Lavi of the sponsoring Peninsula Celebration Association concession committee announced today.

The latest entries are the San Carlos Business and Professional Women's Club, the Palo Alto Ski Club and the Menlo Park DeMolays, all of which have operated concessions in the past. All three will operate different game booths.

The grounds, between the old and new Bayshore Highways, Redwood City, have been readied by the concessionaires in preparation for the arrival of Craft Shows from Hollywood which will erect the temporary booths for the three-day celebration. Some of the clubs, principally the Redwood City Lions Club, Redwood City Eagles and the Kiwanis Club, maintain permanent booths.

Yancy Derringer To Perform At Redwood Rodeo

Television's two-listed "Yancy Derringer," in private life Jock Mahoney, will be the star of the three-day 20th annual Redwood City rodeo and Fourth of July celebration, President Paul B. Jensen of the sponsoring Peninsula Celebration Association announced today.

The handsome star will be seen only at the three rodeo performances and not in the traditional Redwood City Fourth of July parade.

Chairman George Fakhouri of the rodeo committee, who arranged for Mahoney's appearance, said the star can be seen Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 3, 4 and 5 when the rodeo performances begin at 1:30 p.m.

A movie stuntman for five years, Mahoney went on to star in western movies and on the "Loretta Young" program on television. He is married to actress Margaret Field and they have a daughter, Princess Melissa.

During World War II he was a marine fighter pilot and then raised Arabian horses on a ranch in the San Fernando Valley before becoming a movie stuntman.

As a stuntman he made his living by falling off tall buildings, being trampled by horses, dropped through trap doors, fighting duels and this training has come in handy in the "Yancy Derringer" series where he plays a fighter for law and order in New Orleans and on the Mississippi after the Civil War.

'Drunk Flying' Law Goes To Governor Brown

The third of a series of three bills by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County, designed to stop drunk flying and to prevent consequent tragedies, received the Assembly approval of concurrence of Senate amendments and has been sent to the governor.

Specifically, this Francis bill, which is the last of the series, provides that any person is prohibited from being in, or performing any act in connection with, any noncommercial aircraft when under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Under the present law, there is no legal right to prevent anyone who was intoxicated from taking off in an airplane or to participate in the maintenance of the airplane. Francis explained that this law has resulted in a loss of a number of lives in cases where the tragedy could have been prevented.

Clyde P. Barnett, Director of the California Aeronautics Commission, strongly supported this bill and said, "This legislation will close the current legal gaps needed and provide a means for this state to protect our citizens against the irresponsible that somehow make their way into each industry and aviation is fast becoming no exception."

"The Federal Aeronautics Association can do nothing legally or otherwise to stop a pilot from flying while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. They must first let him do it and then file a violation on the pilot. Obviously, to stop the pilot from flying is by far the most desirable and effective course of action," he added.

POLICE CHIEF URGES 'THUMBS DOWN' ATTITUDE

With a long summer ahead and the Fourth of July week-end coming up, Daly City Police Chief Roland A. Petrocchi today urged use of a timely new signal and slogan to prevent accidents and save lives on waterways and highways.

It's short and simple — "Thumbs Down Means Don't Clown!"

"Many of our people will be among the 37 millions of Americans of all ages who enjoy the invigorating and pleasant sport of boating. It is one of the safest forms of recreation, yet just as motoring has its minority of irresponsible "hot-rodders" and "drag-race show-offs" so does boating have a few smart alecks who imperil the safety of themselves and others," Petrocchi declared.

He added, "Out of a desire to curb the dangerous behavior of this troublesome minority has sprung a new idea for the defense of the enlightened majority. The objective is simple to discourage goofy and dangerous antics by giving the familiar "Thumbs Down" gesture to the offender."

Public safety authorities suggest that whenever a person is seen making a pest of himself by clownish behavior in or around a boat, or for that matter in an auto on the highway, annoyed or endangered bystanders can give the unmistakable "Thumbs Down" sign—a universally recognized signal of disapproval. When the "goof-off" offender sees enough people make this sign, he'll know he's doing something he shouldn't do, even when he can't hear complaints above motor noise. He'll know

Disability Insurance Refunds Due

John E. Carr, California Director of Employment, said today that more than $3 million will be refunded this year to wage-earners who overpaid last year for disability insurance, but warned those entitled to refund that they will miss out unless they apply by June 30.

The California Department of Employment handles all claims for refunds, and application forms are available at department offices throughout California.

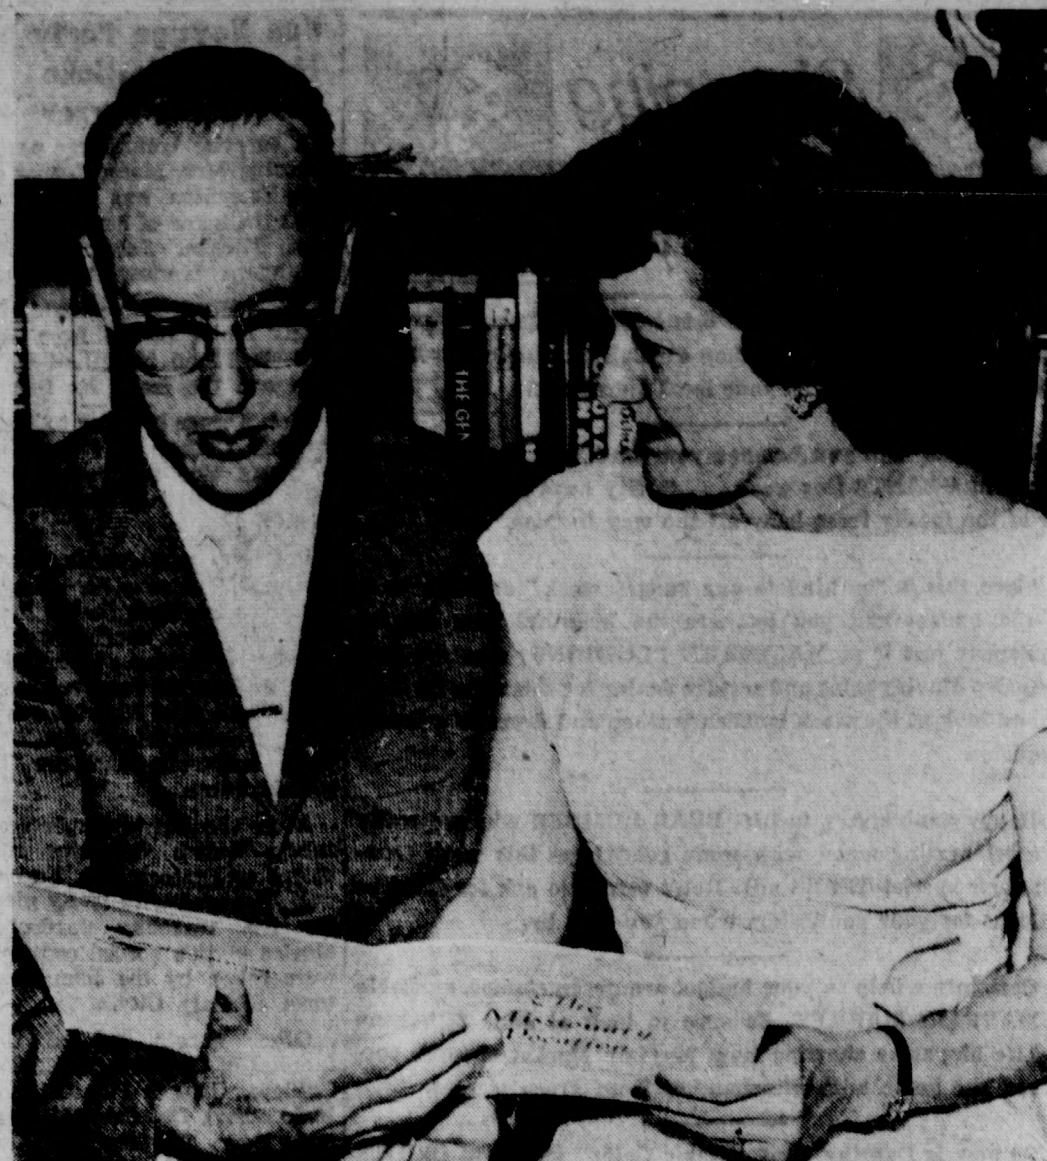

About 3,850,000 California workers are covered by the California Unemployment Insurance Code and pay 1 percent of their first $3600 in wages for disability insurance.

Persons who work for two or more employers in a year may overpay because each employer, as required by law, ability insurance. When the wage-earner's total of withholdings exceeds $36 he is entitled to a refund of the excess.

Last year the Department of Employment refunded $3,630,637 to 208,740 persons who applied for refund of 1957 contributions. The average refund this year is expected to be around $12.

that others know it, too. If, in common with the vast majority, he's even a fair sportsman, psychologists say he will stop his foolishness and act like a gentleman.

So—let's all remember—"Thumbs Down Means Don't Clown!" Also, when towing a boat, don't forget to have proper lights and signals on trailer—and drive extra carefully, advises Chief Petrocchi.

BRISBANE'S Rev. and Mrs. Loren C. Turnage have been appointed by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board for missionary service in Colombia. They have been at Bethel Baptist Church of Brisbane since 1954.

BAPTIST LEADER

Brisbane's Rev. Loren Turnage Named Missionary To Colombia

The Rev. and Mrs. Loren C. Turnage of Brisbane have been appointed missionaries to Colombia by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

They were among 18 new missionaries commissioned at a special meeting of the board, opening the week-long Foreign Missions Conference at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, Baptist Assembly.

Turnage is pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, Brisbane, where he has served since September of 1954. Both he and his wife are children of Baptist ministers.

He was born in Bolivar, Missouri, and lived in Bolivar and Liberty Missouri, as a boy. At the start of World War II his father joined the U.S. Army Air Forces as a chaplain (he is still an Air Force chaplain), and the family lived in Arizona, South Carolina, Alabama, and Colorado.

Turnage returned to Bolivar to attend Southwest Baptist College, where he received the associate of arts degree. The summer following his graduation he worked in Kansas for the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, helping organize a mission in north Wichita.

He was invited to remain there as pastor, so he finished his college work at Friends University, Wichita, receiving the bachelor of arts degree. In 1954 he enrolled in Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Berkeley, California, choosing this school because of the opportunities of service in new Southern Baptist work in California. He graduated from Golden Gate Seminary, with the bachelor of divinity degree, earlier this year.

Mrs. Turnage, the former Cherry Kinchloe, was born in Sapulpa, Oklahoma, but lived in a number of Oklahoma towns as a girl. After graduating from high school in Hominy, Oklahoma, she attended Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, and Golden Gate Seminary.

She met her husband while she was working in Wichita as receptionist and secretary for the Kansas Convention of Southern Baptists. The Turnages have two sons, John Baptist Kinchloe, 6, and Jonathan David, 3.

Concerning their decision to become foreign missionaries, Turnage said: "The factors which constituted our 'call' to foreign missions were many. When we read about the qualifications for missionaries and the great need for more servants of God in other countries, we could think of no good reason for staying in the United States. We were finishing school, the family was in good health, we were willing to go, and we had a strong feeling that this was an open door."

The June appointments bring the total number of active Southern Baptist foreign missionaries to 1343.

In addition to sponsorship by the Recreation and Park Department and the San Francisco Council of Folk Dance Groups, the Marina Merchants Association extends an invitation to everyone to spend the Fourth of July at the Marina Green.

County's Central GOP Committee Builds For '60

By unanimous choice, the Republican County Central Committee has moved to continue its united efforts on the "Building for '60" drive.

This is the coordinated effort of the Fund Drive headed by Frank Grimsley and the Precinct organization headed by Mrs. Robert Fahs, both of San Mateo. It is their aim by September 1 to have precincts organized on a door-to-door basis to preface their participation in a statewide registration drive this fall.

Also maintaining their summer activities is their participation in the San Mateo County Fair program. This project will be headed by Mrs. Ray Marsh of San Carlos. Manning the booth from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. will be members of the various volunteer groups from all over the county. Registrars will be provided at the booth for any persons attending the Fair who desire to register. Elected Republican officials, of San Mateo County including Congressman J. Arthur Younger, Senator Richard J. Dolwig, Assemblyman Louis Francis and Assemblyman Carl Britschgi who will be in attendance on assigned days during the week.

Two new appointments to the County Central Committee were announced by Frank Grimsley, county chairman. They are Miss Leora Baxter of Menlo Park, recently elected state president of the Pro-American, and Marlin Brossart of San Mateo, president of the Tri-City Young Republican organization.

Ingersoll announced their continued efforts on the above programs will aid greatly in keeping an effective county wide group to support the "grass roots" program of information and political activity.

200 Expected For Lutheran Vacation School

More than 200 youngsters are expected to attend the special church service at 9 a.m. on Monday, June 29, opening the two-week sessions of West Portal Lutheran Church's vacation Bible school.

Staffed by 21 teachers and assistants, the school offers courses entitled "Going God's Way" for children from kindergarten age through the ninth grade. Each day's program will include a worship service, Bible story, handicraft, visual aids, and recreation.

Still anticipating late registrations, Willis Bredheft, principal of West Portal Lutheran School and supervisor of the vacation Bible school, emphasized, "We are extremely happy to welcome all late-comers to our Bible school. This opportunity for Christ-centered Bible study is certainly open to all."

The school will close on Thursday evening, July 9, with a church service for pupils and their parents and friends.

The more than 80 captains and some 5000 volunteer workers received special praise, commendation, and appreciation from CS leaders at a quarterly meeting of the board of directors.

Contributing to the outstanding success of the drive this year, which is still continuing are such donations as those sent in to the society last week by a class at Abbott school in San Mateo and a general mathematics class at Woodside high school.

The youngsters at the San Mateo school, students of Room 8-3 grade, sent in $11.05. Accompanying it was a note from Class Treasurer Letha Foppiano, who wrote, "The plans for our class picnic were cancelled and we voted to donate the money to the Cancer Society. It is hoped that our contribution will in some way help aid the fight for a cure for cancer which is desperately needed."

BROWN ACT EXPANDED

New State Laws Guarantee Public More 'Open Meeting' Safeguards

Laws requiring tax-supported agencies to conduct their business well within the public eye were broadened this week as Governor Edmund G. Brown signed a series of "open meeting" bills approved by the California Assembly and Senate.

Bills were approved to expand the "Brown Act" provisions to 21 additional state boards and commissions. The bills were authored by Speaker of the House Ralph M. Brown (D-Modesto), who has long been a champion of the theory that no public agency should be allowed to hold secret meetings.

Assemblyman Brown has worked closely with the California Newspaper Publishers Association in recent years to bring scores of such open meeting laws into effect. The Brown Act, which now covers almost every public agency in the state, including city and county boards and commissions, is built on the theme of the "people's right to know." Basically, it provides that no public agency may hold a meeting without first notifying the press and the press and public may not be barred from such meetings.

Also approved by the legislature and signed by the governor was a bill authored by Assemblyman Frank Luckel (R-San Diego) which plugged up a loophole in a portion of the Brown Act relating to executive sessions for personnel matters. Assemblyman Brown drafted an amendment to the Luckel bill which will prevent public agencies from using the executive session provision to hold secret meetings on other matters.

Another bill, by Senator Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville), signed into law exempts newspaper, radio and television reporters from having to pay "supervision fees" while inspecting public records.

Federal Court Decision Aids GI Reservists

A recent decision by the federal court in San Francisco upholds legislation guaranteeing the reservist a leave-of-absence for military training duty, reemployment rights, and the right to sue for damages should his employer refuse to reinstate him.

Floyd D. Granger, San Mateo Veterans' Service Officer, said the action was the first case tried since the reemployment law was amended in 1956 to give jurisdiction to federal courts in such claims.

In affirming the Labor Department's position, the court held the law creates a statutory leave-of-absence. The employee in this case who was denied reinstatement in his job was awarded $828.88 in damages.

Granger termed the decision especially significant now when tens of thousands of reservists and national guardsmen are making plans to leave their civilian jobs for annual two-week training periods with the armed services.

Bad Discharge Vets May Have Cases Reviewed

Veterans who left the service with less-than-honorable discharges were reminded today by San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer Floyd D. Granger that the deadline date is near for a request of review.

If discharge occurred before June 22, 1944, the deadline for applying for review is June 21, 1959; if discharge was after June 22, 1944, the deadline date is 15 years from the date of discharge.

The Army, Air Force and Navy departments each have boards to review, on their own motion or upon the request of a former officer or enlisted man or woman, the type and nature of his discharge or dismissal, except a discharge or dismissal by reason of the sentence of a general court martial.

If the veteran is deceased, a review may be requested by the surviving spouse, next of kin, or legal representative.

Such review shall be based upon all available records of the service department relating to the person, and such other evidence as he or his representative may present. Witnesses are permitted to appear in person or make affidavits, and the veteran may be represented by counsel. Counsel includes accredited representatives of veterans organizations.

Findings of the board are final, subject only to review by the Secretary of the department.

DD Form 293 is to be used in requesting a review of discharge or separation. This form is obtainable from the Veterans Service Office, and assistance is offered in making it out.

A favorable review of a less-than-honorable discharge or dismissal will make the veteran or his survivors eligible for rights and benefits previously denied.

Francis Gets Senate OK On Escrow Bill

Legislation by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County, which previously passed the Assembly, won approval today in the Senate "to tighten up the escrow law" for the protection of the public. It has been sent to the governor for his signature.

The Francis measure requires that the bond of an escrow agent shall be conditioned that the licensee will honestly and faithfully apply all funds received, will faithfully and honestly perform all obligations and undertakings, and will pay all costs of any receivership ordered by a superior court. In determining the liability, escrow money held in trust, and any money recovered to restore any deficiency in such trust shall not be considered as an asset of the receivership subject to assessment for the costs of receivership.

Another provision of the bill establishes for the first time statutory qualifications for a managing officer of an escrow company receiving funds for deposit or delivery for compensation. It requires the managing officer to have engaged in the escrow business for two years prior to the date of his application. After January 1, 1965, he must be employed by an escrow company for at least four years, or be a graduate of a four-year college or university, together with one year's experience as an employee of an escrow company, and must also present evidence of honesty, trustfulness, and good reputation.

Another provision of the bill requires a fee of $50 for each additional office or location of an escrow company.

The Francis measure also adds two new grounds for the revocation of any license on the escrow law where the licensee was obtained by fraud or misrepresentation of fact, and where he entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, or been found guilty of or been convicted of a felony.

Handicapped Vets Prove Good Workers

Long a leader among federal agencies in the hiring of physically handicapped employees, the Veterans Administration has issued an inspirational report of the ability of these employees to get the job done as well as their hale and hearty co-workers.

Entitled "Handicapped? Not on the Job!" the report takes the form of a pamphlet highlighting the more dramatic among VA's handicapped employees.

The Veterans Administration, in its stations and hospitals from coast to coast, employs more than 8400 physically handicapped workers. Each of VA's major divisions, the Department of Medicine and Surgery, the Department of Veterans Benefits and the Department of Insurance, has found room for qualified and skilled workers who despite some physical handicap have proven that they can do their assigned job well.

"The quality of the performance of the physically handicapped proves that when they are properly placed they can do the job," says Sumner G. Whittier, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, in a brief dedication of the pamphlet. "All they need is the opportunity to demonstrate their ability."

The administrator urged other organizations, federal and non-federal alike, to give a fair chance to qualified applicants among the physically handicapped and promised them that they would be pleasantly surprised.

The VA report bears out the findings of the Civil Service Commission and the Department of Labor that:

1. Physically - handicapped workers produce at slightly higher rates than do unimpaired workers;
2. Impaired persons sustain fewer disabling injuries, and
3. The handicapped have the same range of interest, skills and abilities as the non-handicapped.

EXCESSIVE OIL USE

Excessive oil use results in other and possibly higher costs than those involved in the outlay for additional oil, warns the National Automobile Club. Excessive oil use means underlubrication of high speed, hard working parts of the engine, which cannot fail to produce excessive wear. Finding the cause of that oil waste and correcting it is wise spending.

The Federal Reserve System was established by Congress in 1913.

Columbus Day Queen Contest Details Told

Dan Casentini, first president of the Italian American Federation of San Mateo County and recently elected again to head this large organization, states that the Federation's Columbus Day Queen Contest will be devoted to aid the Crippled Children's Society of the county.

Over the past years, the Federation has given $500 scholarships to needy students. This year, however, the new administration officers decided that the San Mateo County's Crippled Children's Society be the recipient of the proceeds from the ticket sales of the contest.

Casentini stated that the Federation is in need of young girl contestants throughout the county. Any girl from 16 years or over may enter the contest, which will be profitable and adventurous for the contestant, but more profitable to the crippled children and adults.

Any young lady desiring more information may contact Casentini at 178 Edgemont drive, PL 6-4521, or Roy Barghini, PL 5-5658, after 6 p.m.

Deadline for the contestants is June 29.

"Man-1959" — an impressive title, and equally impressive are KPIX's plans for a special public service project during the coming months — programs which will encompass a wide field of man's endeavors including family, community, nation, world and universe.

Public service programs generally are shuffled from pillar to post on television stations and not given the recognition they deserve. KPIX, one of the outstanding local stations as far as community service is concerned, presented a bold and certainly new concept in programming when they announced at a special press conference plans for "Man — 1959". Tackling such subjects as mentally disturbed children, safety, science, law, creative thinking — a wide range of subjects will be delved into, backed by careful research and production. According to program director Ray Hubbard, the length of programs may vary, and there will be no set time or day when they will be presented — again certainly a new concept in television programming.

This is the sort of creative thinking on the part of television stations that we enthusiastically applaud. Do watch for the programs, and if you enjoy them write and let the station know. Such a worthy project deserves a helping hand!

Anxious for your youngsters to learn a foreign language? Have them tune KQED (Mon. & Wed. 7pm) for a beginning course in elementary French, and on Thursdays and Fridays for an elementary language course in German. You'll probably find yourself saying "Eins, Zwei, Drei" right along with them.

Premiering this week over KGO Radio weekdays at 8:15 am a business and investment news program presented by Reynolds & Company.

Important date to mark on your calendar — June 26, 8pm, KRON-TV, when NBC news presents first of 7 special new-casts schedule for peak evening viewing hours. Subject of first telecast will be opening of St. Lawrence seaway.

ARRIVES IN AUGUST

Westlake Community Baptist Calls Reverend Hodges As New Pastor

Announcement was made Sunday that the Rev. Lynn Hodges has agreed to become pastor at Westlake Community Baptist Church, located at Southgate avenue and Elmwood avenue.

He will assume pastoral duties the middle of August. Naming of the new pastor concludes one year of searching by the church for a qualified minister disposed to share in the kind of future the Westlake community seems to afford. According to Pulpit Committee chairman Don Mann, 1128 South Mayfair, "our church gave an enthusiastic and unanimous call to Reverend Hodges and this indicates our belief that he is just the kind of spiritual leader our church and community needs."

The new pastor, a native of Oregon, is 37 years of age, and is married to the former Clara Jensen of Hot Springs, South Dakota. There are three children: Shirley, 17, Lynn Jr., 15, and Stanley, 9.

As far as training and experience is concerned, Pastor Hodges comes to Westlake with a splendid background. He has attended an Oregon Bible College, Ottawa University, Washburn University, Kansas University and the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School. Graduate degrees were earned from the last two schools. He has also done advanced study in psychology, administration, religious radio and T.V., and in counseling. Before moving to California, Hodges spent 10 years in Topeka, Kansas, pastoring the fastest growing church in that part of the country.

An indication of how active the Reverend Hodges has been in religious, social, and civic affairs may be seen in his being named, "outstanding citizen of the year," in Topeka, Kansas, (1952). This honor, never before conferred upon a minister, came as the result of extensive community work with civic clubs, social agencies, youth organizations and church groups.

August 16 has been set as the day for Reverend Hodges and his family to be welcomed to Westlake Community Baptist Church. Until that time, interim pastor Bart Jacobsen will supply. In anticipation of their new pastor's arrival, the Westlake Church is planning considerable new activity and substantial growth.

No fees will be charged, no homework assigned, and no textbook used. Classes begin July 6, and early registration is advised.

Part of S.F. State's Foreign Language Institute for teachers of French and Spanish, the classes are made possible by a contract signed recently between the state of California, through Dr. Roy E. Teacher trainees will study linguistic analysis, oral techniques, exercises and drill in conversation and lectures in civilization and area studies. The special demonstration classes for junior high school children are part of the program.

State Approves Two Bills To Aid Elections

Two non-partisan measures by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County were unanimously passed by the Senate to "provide for fairer elections and to facilitate work of volunteer precinct and other workers in election campaigns."

The first Francis measure provides that precinct lists or indexes of registration to be furnished to all candidates for congressional, state, county, or city offices, shall be the copies to be used for the election in which the candidates are to take part.

Francis stated that this bill will give candidates for these offices at least two sets of the latest published lists or indexes by paying the charge now required by law.

In some counties candidates for these local offices have been furnished lists or indexes which are six months to one year old. Substantial changes of registration make the old precinct lists or indexes obsolete to a large extent and causes additional work for candidates and their campaign committees.

The second Francis measure requires that indexes of registration compiled by the county clerk or registrar of voters be arranged in alphabetical order in accordance with the surnames of the voters. It also provides that a space of not less than one-fourth inch, or a line of printing, shall be allowed between one alphabetical grouping and the next grouping.

Francis explained, "If this measure is signed into law, it will facilitate the tedious work of volunteers of both parties, and precinct officials who spend countless hours, often in poor lighting in garages, promoting the campaigns of their respective candidates, or tabulating the votes in precincts. These civic-minded people should not be handicapped by impractical groupings practiced by some county clerks in order to save space on precinct lists."

Assembly Approves Exemptions Bill

An Assembly-approved bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County was passed today which requires affidavits for exemptions, other than welfare exemptions, to be filed with the assessor on or before the first Monday in May.

This bill will give the additional necessary time to county assessors in making up their assessment rolls to avoid errors which inconvenience the taxpayer in making the necessary corrections.

The time period for filing tax exemptions will be for two months from the first Monday in March to the first Monday in May. The Francis measure was supported by the County Assessors Association and introduced at the request of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

DC Nines Take Early Lead In PAL Baseball

Daly City's police league baseballers are robbing South San Francisco teams' chances of getting into the first division.

The Red Sox and Yankees are leading the league with two wins apiece, while the Braves and Giants are battling with the Captains and Lieutenants for third and fourth place. Jim Smyser scattered six hits to lead the Yankees to a 3-2 edging of the Chiefs Thursday. Herb Dyer's fifth inning home run provided the margin of victory for the Yankees.

The Red Sox kept pace by trouncing the Captains, 11-2. Holmberg led the winners with two hits in three at-bats. Tom Snodgrass' two-hit pitching was the key to the win.

In the other game, the Braves battered the Inspectors, 15-4. Molossi and Doyle garnered three hits in five at-bats to lead the victors.

KROHN FASHIONS NO-HITTER AS DRUGS 9 SOCKS HAKOAH, 24-0

Barry Krohn carbon-copied teammate Terry Christman's no-hitter exactly one week later by blanking Hakoah Athletic Club, 24-0, last Saturday.

As his Daly City Drugs nine marched plateward 24 times, Krohn struck out 10 batters and was only in trouble in the final inning when he loaded the bases on walks. He retired the side on strikes. The only other runner to reach first was in the opening inning on an error.

Billy Hix, Don Mayer and Georgie Claus slammed triples while every Drugs starter had at least one hit. Mayer was most effective with runners on base, chasing four runs home.

The following day the Drugs team opened the Northern Peninsula High School League with a decisive 8-2 victory over Pacifica Sea Bowl at Marchbanks.

Claus not only pitched a five-hitter but scored the tying run on a double steal and knocked in the go-ahead run with a sacrifice fly.

Tom Bournellis' youngsters abused Don Hasinski, the loser, and Dave Joost for six runs in the fifth inning. Hix's

POMONA TILE WINS JUNIOR BASEBALL FLAG

Final week of the Spring Junior Baseball League sponsored by the Daly City Department of Parks and Recreation featured high scoring and lopsided scores.

The PAL Indians cinched second place with a 9-0 victory over San Pedro Lunch.

Other games saw Visitation defeat PAL Hawkeyes, 7-0, while Patek-Ecklon was awarded a 9-0 forfeit win over OLPH. In a real slugfest, Holy Angels outlasted Broadmoor Youth Association, 12-11.

Pedestrian Claims Motorist Tried To Run Her Down Here

Police are looking for the driver of a green, late model sedan who last Thursday morning swerved toward the curb at School street and Bruno avenue and knocked down a pedestrian.

That's the only description Hazel Booth, 52, of 2159 Mission street, could remember. Luckily she suffered only minor knee and shoulder injuries, according to the Junipero Serra Hospital report.

Officer Tom Culley said the reportedly deliberate run-down attempt occurred about 6:50 a.m. as the woman was en route to the Villa Sanitarium here.

Primo Liberatore Barely Misses Coveted '300' Game At Swanson's

By Leon Cohn

A spare, the 5-9, kept Primo Liberatore from achieving the goal of all bowlers, the coveted "300" game. Rolling with the "500" Mixed Trio on the Westlake Bowl lanes, Primo started with a strike, made his spare in the second frame and finished with ten strikes for a 280 game. This is the highest game bowled at the Bowl since its opening. He finished the evening with a series total of 845 for four games.

The Daly City Municipal League concluded its winter-summer session with the Finance Dept. emerging on top by two games over the office personnel of the Police Dept. The winning members were Harold Riley, Julie Dayringer, Allen Hertel, Wilma Riley and Joe Arch. Shelby Ross, secretary of the league, is looking forward to having a ten or 12-team league this winter season.

Also finishing its first league schedule were the Early Risers. This group is comprised of the fair sex. The Golden Gate Brokerage girls took first place honors. Members were Eleanor Voss, Carmen Kristovich, Dee Frugoli and Barbara McKinney.

This league proved very popular with the ladies. Thursday morning at 9, a new schedule is in store for the Early Risers. It has been expanded to 14 teams and divided into two leagues, one with 6, and the other with 8 teams.

A meeting will be held this Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. to form a league for women who are unable to bowl during the week. Marge Brown, in charge of organizing this group, has had many requests for places on teams and is looking forward to large turnout.

AT SAN JOSE STATE

Gary Ryan, Former Jeff Standout, Looms Outstanding College Cager

Gary Ryan, former Jefferson High and All-Peninsula League basketball star, continued his scourge against breaking nets of the opposition's baskets while playing for the San Jose State freshmen cagers last fall.

The Brisbane basketballer led the Spartababes to one of their finest seasons. As captain of the team he led the team in scoring and was, without a doubt, one of the finest Frosh shooters in the league from foul line. Ryan was most efficient in a tight contest when his ability to keep calm and coolly sink charity tosses pac the young Staters to wins.

Frosh coach and varsity assistant Stu Inman pulled out all the adjectives when describing Ryan's play. Inman said Ryan's leading score in his day, likened Ryan, Carroll Williams as one of the "best freshmen ever."

Inman remarked, "Ryan has all the moves, the desires, the ability to go far in his basketball playing here." The coach was particularly enthused about Ryan's cat-like moves.

"There isn't a phase of the game that Ryan can't do, and can't do well," Inman said, adding, "he can pass, shoot, toss in fouls and is a demon on defense."

Ryan also played end for the frosh footballers where he joined former South San Francisco halfback Dave Kilbourne as a teammate. Kilbourne, East-West prep game selector, ran from the halfback slot for the San Jose State frosh footballers who only lost one seven contests.

Ryan, sparkled like a glistering gem for the basketballers. When the varsity takes the hardwood this fall, Ryan will be giving it his all. It won't be an easy task, due to the fact four starters are turning, but you can't keep hard driving ex-Jeff ace out of contention.

Don't Starch Your Fingers to the Bone

Why starch, starch, starch every single washday? It can't be good for your clothes... and it isn't good for your hands... to twist and wring, twist and wring as you starch. PERMA STARCH cuts starching down to practically nothing—just one starching lasts thru 8 to 15 washings. That's because PERMA STARCH doesn't wash out—even in hottest water and bleach.

PERMA STARCH

Session dates: 1—July 13, 14, 15; 2—July 20, 21, 22; 3—July 27, 28, 29; 4—Aug. 3, 4, 5; 5—Aug. 10, 11, 12; 6—Aug. 17, 18, 19, and 7—Aug. 24, 25, 26.
